THE QUALITY STORE

THE
WELL GROOMED
WOMAN

finds the charm of personality in a coat or suit that adapts itself to the individual type. In our garments the beauty of the all-wool fabrics is accentuated by the unusual excellence of the tailoring. And the artistic appreciation of refinement in trimmings and finishing touches that mean so much in a tailored garment, are the visible showing of the quality that exists in every detail.

Our suits and coats appeal especially to the woman who desires a garment which will retain its original perfect in line and quality through more than one season's wear.

But while the excellence of quality has been maintained, this spring's models reflect in a marked degree the downward trend in price. This means that you can buy a garment much lower than you would expect to pay for such value.

Come and try on some of our new spring suits or coats. You'll be pleasantly surprised at the transformation they will make in your appearance. Don't delay, for now is the time you need new apparel, and the best looking numbers go first.

SUITS $29.50 to $65.00

MANY AT FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION MEETING

New Officers Elected and Much of Interest Discussed.

The business meeting and banquet of the Medina County Fish and Game association held at the Odd Fellows' hall on Thursday evening of last week was largely attended and a most interesting affair, 82 being seated at the banquet table.

Dr. C. D. Freeman presided, and the first business to be transacted was the election of a board of trustees, which resulted as follows:

C. D. Freeman, H. G. Rowe, W. C. Smith, N. O. Fuller and Walter Webber. The newly elected trustees proceeded to elect a president, secretary and treasurer, and the following were named: N. O. Fuller, president; Walter Webber, secretary and treasurer.

Dr. Freeman called on a number of the members for short talks, among them being State Deputy Game Warden Clem Burkholder of Seville, Chas. Cady of Hinkley, Mr. Baker of Seville, and Rev. R. K. Cawls, Brant Early and Chris. Bohley of Medina.

Messrs. Cady, Burkholder, Baker and Bohley spoke particularly with regard to foxes. While it is understood that many farmers are opposed to any protection for fox, these gentlemen are of the opinion that there should be protection, although they are in favor of extending the season for hunting them at least a month.

Where the law sets the date at present as Jan. 1, the speakers favored an extension to Feb. 1.

It was stated that there is a movement on foot for the establishment of a territory in each county in the state of an area of several hundred acres, wherein all hunting shall be forbidden, the idea being that it will afford a "refuge" for game of all kinds and which itself would serve as a protection. This brought out a statement from Mr. Cady of Hinkley that there already exists such a refuge in his township and that its confines have been very generally respected by hunters for a long time.

The association was unanimous for the suggestion that a campaign for a larger membership be started at once, that they may better make themselves felt in influencing legislation for the advantage of Medina county in the matter of fish and game conditions.
